National Scenic and Recreational Trail, the Skyline Trail hike to Delano Peak

Delano Peak sits at 12,169 feet, the highest point in the Tushar Mountains. The views from Delano Peak

re some of the most spectacular in Utah. Heading East from the repeater

along

the ridgeline, looking to the north-east you will see Bullion Pasture and Bullion Canyon.

Continuing around the ridgeline to the north-east you pass along "The Pocket" to see Delano Peak to the south. Follow the so uth

ern ridgeline until you reach the 12,169 ft summit. To the North you will see Sevier County and I-70 leading to Richfield. To the East you will see Piute Reservoir and Highway 89. To the South you will see the Holly Peak and Elk Meadow Ski Resort. To the west you will see glimpses of Beaver and the Great Basin beyond. While enjoying the view from the lofty peak, you may be fortunate enough to see the large herd of mountain goats that live along these alpine ridges.

To access the trail head from Marysvale, head west up Beaver Creek to Forest Service Road 123 (Big John Flats Road). follow the first left fork for about 4.5 miles to where the road again forks. Take the right (west) fork to the Forest Service repeater tower, there you will find parking for the trail head. The round trip hike is nearly 4 miles.
